

Lilly Jamshidi is the Vice President of Business Development at SourceCast, Inc. In her current role, Lilly specializes in educating human resource professionals about OFCCP compliance, diversity hiring and sourcing best practices. Lilly believes that achieving successful diversity hiring performance depends on how and where you source for diversity and she is passionate about helping employers develop a talent pipeline of diverse candidates for hire. Lilly regularly presents at industry conferences and also conducts virtual webinars and educational sessions for the SourceCast network of talent sources and employer customers. Lilly holds a Bachelor of Business Administration with a concentration in Marketing and a Master of Business Administration (MBA) in Management. In her free time, she enjoys cooking dishes from all around the world and spending time with her family.